ARKANSAS VS. VERMONT. What Figure the Silver Question Cut in Two states have just held their elections. Vermont, of course, went heavfly republican, and Arkansas, of course, went heavily democratic. On its face, it appears to be a stand-off; but a moment's reflection will show that it is "Gl, so far as the presidential election is concerned. In Vermont both parties had declared for the gold standard, and when the national democracy put itself on record for free silver it left the party in Vermont with absolutely no ground to stand on.

The silver question was in no sense a square issue in Vermont. In Arkansas, though, the question of democratic vote, according to the latest advices, shows a net gain of from 15,000 to 25,000. The majority is estimated at that Mr. Bryan's majority in November will be 10,000 greater. The populists will be 10,000 greater. The populists will all vote for him and so will many silver republicans, who would not support a democratic state ticket. Moreover, Arkansas may be fairly [1] deemed a barometer of sentiment in the western states. If the silver cause has grown there it has almost certainly grown in Missouri.-National Bimetal-

Everybody likes "Battle Ax" because of its exceedingly fine quality. Because of the economy there is in buying it. Because of its low price. It's the kind the rich men chew because of its high grade, and the kind the poor men can afford to chew because of its great size. A 5-cent piece of "Battle Ax" is almost twice the size of the 10-cent piece of other high grade brands.
